

Campbell County Public Library receives grant promoting breast cancer awareness

The Campbell County Public recently received a $400 grant from the Virginia Breast Cancer Foundation (VBCF) to support breast cancer awareness efforts in the Campbell County community. Books in support of breast cancer health and coping with the disease were purchased with the grant so that up-to-date information is available to the public. The books are distributed between Campbell County's four branch libraries and are currently on display at the Rustburg Library for checkout.
